Community Activities Mrs. Prange was second in place for Queen of the Torrance Fair, and served as one of the queens' attendants during the

LATE NEWS

CITY HALL: The California Department of Employment indicated in a letter to the Torrance City Council that it would not be interested in the old city hall (Cravens and El Prado) for use as an employment office. The city had hoped to exchange the city hall for some property owned by the state.

HALLOWEEN: Hoodlumism in Torrance was apparently greater this year than in previous years. Two abandoned shacks near Sepulveda and La-deene were destroyed by fire, as was a similar structure near Madrona avenue and Emerald street. Vandals also turned on numerous fire hydrants in south Torrance.

1280 SARTORI AVE., CORNER OF EL PRADO OPEN FRIDAY NITES

Saxon... High... Lights By BONNIE WILLIAMS FR. 2-4623

Once again fighting a losing battle the Saxon Varsity fell before the Hawthorne Cougars on the Leuzinger field last Friday night, 33-6.

The score at the half was 20-0 for Hawthorne. The Saxons' one touch-down was made by half-back Jim Powers in the third quarter, but the Saxons failed to make the extra point on the conversion.

Still winless, the Saxons will battle Beverly Hills tomorrow night on the Torrance high field as the climax of Grid Week. Grid Week takes the place of Home Coming, as North high has no alumni as yet.

Elected from fifteen of the prettiest girls on campus was Grid Queen Beth Ladd and her four attendants Jo Ann Hiramoto, Mitzi and Diane Trimiev, and Pat Hogan.

The Queen and her court were announced at the rally Friday and each was presented with a corsage by our foreign exchange student Arny Willemsen. They have reigned over Grid Week which started Monday and ends with the Beverly Hills game tomorrow night.

Beth is president of the Girls League and a song queen, at North high. Jo Ann and Mitzi are also song queens, while Diane and Pat Majorette and Head Majorette, respectively.

Things To Do Remember November 8 is North high's first open house. Parents will be programmed into their child's regular classes. If you have news of any kind. Please contact me by calling FR. 2-4623.
